[By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

HALIFAX, November 17.—The repeal controversy still continues.

Hon. William Armand has published a letter in reply to that of Mr. Howe. He is confident of bringing about the repeal in England, and anticipates the failure of Canada to conciliate Nova Scotia.

Judge Marshal has also written another letter, in which he says Mr. Howe counts too largely on steadfast devotion of the people, and warns any person in office that if they support Howe their career will be short.

The repealers generally think Howe can't influence Nova Scotia, but fear that his course will have immense influence in England.

VALUABLE WATER FRONT.

The Venango Oil Transportation Company have sold to the Erie Railroad Company for the sum of $1,600,000, a water front of two hundred feet at the Venango Oil Docks, in Weehawken. The transfer was made subject to a mortgage of $250,000 held by the Hoboken Land and Improvement Company. The certainty that this locality will at no distant day be the great depot and terminus of the Western and Southern lines, induced the Erie Company to forestall any competitor by securing this valuable water front.

THE STEVENS BATTERY TO BE COMPLETED.

In accordance with the will of the late Edwin A. Stevens, the Stevens Battery is to be completsd at a cost not exceeding $1,000,000. General George B. McClellan has been retained to superintend the work, at a salary of ten thousand dollars a year. This engagement was effected in Paris by the late Mr. Stevens shortly before his death, General McClellan and he having been negotiating with several of the European governments for the construction of a battery similar to the one projected by Mr. Stevens. According to the will, this battery, when completed, shall be presented to the State of New Jersey, and in case it is not accepted, it shall be sold and the proceeds added to the estate.

IMPORTANT AND INTERESTING RAILROAD SUITS.

A new suit against the Directors of the Erie Railway Company was begun in the Supreme Court Chambers, before Judge Sutherland, to-day, on the application of August Belmont. The complaint is founded on affidavits by Frank Work and others, substantially setting forth that the money of the Erie Company has been used by Messrs. Gould, Fisk & Lane in furtherance of stock speculations for their private interest. The affidavits further set forth that recently Lane was insolvent, and that Fisk was an adventurer from New England. It is also alleged in the affidavits that Pike's Opera House had been purchased in the sole name of Fisk with the money of the Company to the amount of $850,000. Messrs. Fisk, Gould & Lane are further charged with having issued from $23,000,000 to $30,000,000 of spurious shares, with a view of creating a "corner" in Wall street. The affidavits further allege that the above named individuals have denied the other Directors access to the books, and, in fact, managed the affairs of the Company exclusively for their own interest and in a reckless manner. Judge Sutherland granted an injunction, which directs the officers and agents of the Company to refrain from increasing the capital stock of the Erie Railroad Company beyond the amount now outstanding and from the hands of bona fide holders, and also orders that the defendants refrain from removing any of the books, papers, securities or funds of the Company from the jurisdiction of the Court, and directs that the funds shall be applied for no purpose but the payment of the legitimate debts and expenses of the Company. The balance is to be disposed of in such manner as the Court may from time to time direct. The Court also orders that the officers and agents of the Company shall refrain from in any manner obstructing any of the directors from examining any of the books of the said Company. Another suit has been begun by Charles McIntosh against the Directors and August Belmont, in which an injunction has been obtained, but whether this is in aid or against the first suit does not appear. The latest development in the Erie affairs is, according to report, that Jay Gould was appointed Receiver of the Company last Thursday by Judge Barnard.

MEXICO.

Palacio, Late Chief Justice, Arrested—Americans Awaiting the Election Returns—What They Expect of Gen. Grant—Terrible Wind and Rain Storm—Senor Romero Returns to Washington—Earthquakes and Inundations—Vera Cruz and Mexico Railway.

[By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

SAN FRANCISCO, November 16.—The steamship Continental, with Mazatlan advices to November 7, has arrived.

Rierdo Palacio, formerly Chief Justice of the Supreme Court of the State of Sinolo, was arrested October 28th and conveyed to parts unknown, accused of attempting to bribe the guards in order to see his imprisoned brother, and also of being one of the leaders of the secret revolutionary movement to drive Governor Bubi from power when Corona leaves for Mexico.

The American residents were anxiously awaiting the results of the Presidential election. It was believed that Grant would be elected, and all parties are of opinion that he will inaugurate a vigorous Mexican policy and demand accountability for the late outrages and murders of American citizens. It is expected his election will renew with greater force the question of the annexation of Northwestern Mexico.

General Kontzen's mission to Mexico was regarded as made at the instance of Grant, and caused considerable comment. The Mexican leaders seem suspicious of American military men traveling through their country. The presence in the Port of Mazatlin of three United States war vessels, the Pensacola, Resacca, and Lackawana, one a flag ship, added to the general excitement, and gave the place more of the appearance of an American than a Mexican city.

A terrible wind and rain storm prevailed over the country from the 15th to the 18th of October, doing immense damage and causing great suffering and loss of life. The city of Alamas, in the State of Sonora, with a population of seven thousand, was destroyed by floods and whirlwinds, and Loretts, in Lower California, and several other small towns, entirely demolished. Herds of cattle were swept away, and orange groves and crops in some instances totally ruined. The Yagui and Mayo rivers rose forty feet.

The Mexican war steamer Juarez is still beached near Lopaz. The Lackawanna made an unsuccessful attempt to release her.

The flagship Pensacola is expected to sail for Panama in a few days.

The French Steamer, Panama, from Vera Cruz 12th, arrived to-day, and brings the following intelligence:

The newspaper Two Republics says: Senor Romero will shortly return to Washington and that Riva Palacco will replace him as Secretary of the Treasury.

A trembling of the earth was felt on the third and Sixth instants, at Iturbede, fourteen leagues from San Luis Potosi. Many of the inhabitants were frightened and left.

Inundations caused much damage at San Juan, Bamtisla and Tobasco.

The Mexican Congress had approved the contract for the Vera Cruz and Mexico Railway.

Proclamation of Gov. Clayton—Militia Attacked by the Ku-Klux—Four Killed and Several Wounded—The Legislature Convened.

[By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

MEMPHIS, November 17.—The Avalanche publishes to-morrow the following from Gov. Clayton, of Arkansas:

Circular Letter to the Sheriffs and other County Officers:—I have transmitted to your county copies of my proclamation declaring martial law in certain counties of the State. The election being over the time has now arrived when the State Government must sustain itself at the point of the bayonet, if necessary.

The American people have, by overwhelming majorities, declared in favor of the validity of the reconstruction measures and the government acting upon them. Under the United States authorities, and in difference to the decision of the people, we ask for no help from abroad; we must show our willingness to help ourselves. The enemies of the State government are demoralized by the effects of the stunning blow they received on the 3d inst. Now is the auspicious time for the officers of the government, State, county and municipal, aided by loyal people, to recover their lost authority, and by one grand thorough effort establish peace and order permanently in this State. It is the intention of the Executive to lend every energy toward the accomplishment of this desired end. If the officers in the various departments in the State, and the law abiding people, will but heartily second him in his efforts, it will be accomplished. I, therefore, urge upon the officers of your county to put forth an united and determined effort for the enforcement of law and toward bringing criminals to punishment. You must make your authority respected or bring on an open issue. If after making vigorous attempt you fail, then martial law will be extended to your county and upon the heads of the people thereof, the dreadful responsibility must rest. You are requested to perfect the organization of the malitia in your county. If the loyal people do not volunteer in the State guard, the reserve malitia must be organized. When called upon, you must furnish your quota of malitia to operate in other portions of the State Urge upon the citizens not to act upon their opinions against the authorities. A general plan is determined upon, and all must render cheerful assent in order to make it successful. Warn the people against unauthorized interference in the affairs of other counties and report promptly all matters of importance.

[Signed] LOWELL CLAYTON, Gov.

We submit to our readers the following resolution passed by the faculty of the Western University, on the occasion of Prof. Rud. Leonhardt's withdrawal from that Institution, because it reflects equal credit on the party leaving, and on that remaining, and gives the public an opportunity to see, in what commendable spirit, affairs are conducted in the University.

WESTERN UNIVERSITY.
Pittsburgh, Nov., 13th, 1868.

PROF. LEONHART—Dear Sir: At a meet of the faculty, held November 11th, the following was passed:

In view of the seven years of faithful labor rendered in this institution by Mr. Rudolph Leonhardt, A. M., as a Professor of the German Language and General History, his entire devotion to its interests and those of sound learning generally, and in view of the cordial relation which has existed between us, and our deep regret, that he has determined to withdraw from us for another sphere of literary labor;

Resolved, That the members of this faculty take the highest pleasure in bearing witness to his scholarship and skill as a teacher, his talents as a litterateur and his his genial qualities as a gentleman and a friend. Very truly Yours,

J. N. FORNER, Secretary.

Amusements.

OPERA HOUSE.—Notwithstanding the very unfavorable weather, the audience at the Opera House was respectably large last night. The amusing comedy entitled "Sam" was repeated, and may be repeated to full houses for weeks to come. Consequently, we will be favored with "Sam and all that sort of thing" to-night "you know." It would be well for those desiring comfortable seats to engage them early, as everybody wants to see "Sam you Know."

PITTSBURGH THEATRE.—The work of renovating and refitting the old Drury is being diligently prosecuted, and it is rapidly approaching completion. So general are the changes and improvements that the once dingy old place will be transfigured into a perfect temple of beauty in comparison with its former appearance. It will be formally opened Monday night with Miss. Kate Fisher as the particular star, supported by a number of scarcely less brilliant luminaries in the theatrical world. Mazeppa will be the opening piece.

THE VARIETIES.—The invincible and enterprising manager of Trimble's Varieties, Mr. Williams, no matter what the attractions at other places of amusement in the city, always presents some attraction to secure full houses at the Varieties, and such as to meet the approval and win the admiration of his patrons and the public generally. Miss Annie Hindle is now the chief attraction.

MUSEUM.—Notwithstanding the disagreeable weather yesterday, Major Burnell did a good business at his Museum in Franklin Hall, which is a gratifying evidence that the public in this vicinity appreciate a good entertainment. The Major spares no pains or expense to make the museum a first class establishment, and his efforts are worthy of a hearty support from a generous public. The museum is open day and evening, and the lover of the curious in nature, or art, could make no better investment of a small sum, than by paying Franklin Hall a visit.

Plum Township Teachers' Institute.

The Teachers of Plum township met the Franklin school on the 14th. The school was in session during the forenoon, and from the manner in which the scholars conducted themselves and recited their lessons, it was evident that the teacher, Miss McCready, had her school under efficient control, and deserves praise therefor.

On motion, Messrs. S. A. Alter and S. Stotler were elected honorary members, when the institute adjourned to meet at one o'clock. In the meantime a dinner was given, furnished by the patrons of the school. The afternoon session was occupied by class drills on physical geography and arithmetic. The question—"should the fifth reader be used in our common schools, was discussed by several members." The next meeting will be held on the 28th, at Jackson Hall. Programme: mental arithmetic and orthography, and addresses by Messrs. Johnston and G. D. Hunt. Teachers and others should attend these meetings, and use their influence in giving encouragement to the cause of education through the agency of institutes.

Mark Twain.

Mark Twain, the only American humorist worthy of high place in the estimation of the people, will be with us to-morrow evening at the Academy of Music, to deliver a lecture under the auspices of the Mercantile Library Association. That he will be welcomed by a large audience is clearly shown in the demand for reserved seats, as nearly every available place in the Academy was taken last night on the opening of the box sheet. The Committee, however, have yet a choice number for disposal, which may be obtained at the Library rooms to-day and to-morrow. Inasmuch as this will be the first occasion of Twain's appearance in the city, although his name is as familiar as a household word to all readers, we hope that not a single seat will remain unoccupied during his lecture. His subject, "The American Vandal Abroad," has nothing to do with the recent rebellion, nor with the hand-shaking performances of Reverdy Johnson, but is ——, well, we don't know what it is, unless, coming from Twain, it be funny.

Mrs. Kemble's Readings.

A knowing critic has remarked that "by ancestry, by nature, by education Mrs. Fannie Kemble is a tragedienne. Her reading has been made by elocutionists of high rank the standard of excellence, and everywhere she appears she creates fervor and enthusiasm which amount to a Shaksperian revival. Hence it is with no little anxiety that our people await her readings on Thursday and Friday evenings of this week at Lafayette Hall. On the first occasion she will read "Julius Ceasar," a production in which she can fully display her versatile talent and high histrionic ability. On the second occasion she will read the "Merry Wives of Windsor," which affords equal scope for her powers. We trust that Mrs. Kemble will be welcomed by such large audiences as our city is ever ready to accord true genius and accredited talent and power of interpretation. Reserved seats may be obtained at C. C. Mellor's well known music store, No. 81 Wood street.

Allegheny Temperance League.

The Allegheny Temperance League held a regular meeting in the East Common Methodist Church, last evening, Rev. E. E. Swift presiding.

The meeting was opened with prayer by Rev. A. K. Bell, D. D. Rev. S. F. Scovel made an address on the subject of "Our Social Customs in relation to Temperance," in which he maintained that the popular practice of introducing wines and liquors into social intercourse was one of the greatest agencies in the cause of intemperance.

Rev. Drs. Swift and Bell, and David Blair, Esq., were appointed as a committee on lectures. On motion, the secretary was directed to request the pastors of the different churches, in the vicinity to take up collections, in their several churches for the benefit of the League. Adjourned with benediction, by Rev. McMillan.

A Barbecue.

Our Republican friends of Scott, Robinson, North and South Fayette townships propose celebrating the grand victory of November by an old fashioned barbecue at Mansfield, on Thursday next. The ox to be roasted on the occasion is a sleek, fat and magnificent fellow, and much good eating as well as genuine sport may be anticipated. The festivity will commence at noon precisely. The Panhandle road will carry passengers at half fare from any point between the city and Steubenville. Excursionists can get home before dark. During the feast a rabid Democrat will pay a wager by wheeling a heavy Republican from one point to another in a wheelbarrow. Altogether, a splendid time may be anticipated by those who attend.

The Pittsburgh Gazette.

THE TWO FRIENDS.

BY ARTHUR H. CLOUGH.

As ships, becalmed at eve, that lay
With canvass drooping, side by side,
Two towers of sail at dawn of day
Are scarce, long leagues apart, descried;

When fell the night, unsprung the breeze,
And all the darkling hours they plied,
Nor dreampt but each the self same seas
By each was cleaving, side by side.

E'en so—but why the tale reveal
Of those whom year by year unchanged,
Brief absence joined anew, to feel
Astounded, soul from soul estranged.

At dead of night their sails were filled,
And onward each rejoicing steered;
Ah! neither blamed, for neither willed
Or wist what first with dawn appeared.

To veer, how vain! On, onward strain,
Brave barks! In light, in darkness too!
Through winds and tides one compass guides—
To that and your own selves be true.

But, O blithe breeze! and O great seas,
Though ne'er that earliest parting past,
On your wide plain they join again,
Together lead them home at last.

One port, methought, alike they sought—
One purpose hold where'er they fare;
O bounding breeze, O rushing seas,
At last, at last, unite them there!

—An English laborer, when hungry, recently pulled up a carrot from a field through which he was passing, and ate it. For this crime he was sentenced to twenty-one days hard labor. —A fossil skeleton of a mosasaurus has been discovered on the line of the Union Pacific railroad, by Dr. W. E Webb. It is 86 feet long, its jaws are five feet long, and its neck five feet in diameter. Whether the skeleton is perfect or not, cannot be ascertained until it is dug out. The only one known to exist, we believe, is at the Jardin des Plantes, in Paris, and is but 25 feet long. This newly discovered specimen is to go to the Academy of Natural Sciences at Philadelphia.

RAILWAY SHARES.

The transactions in Railway shares continue large, although there is less excitement than yesterday. The market opened firm, with sales of Erie at 54; New York Central, 122½; Reading, 99¼; Northwestern, 85. At the first open board prices weakened, and since then they have gradually weakened and settled, until the second regular board, when Erie touched 47; New York Central, 118⅜; Reading, 97⅜, and Northwestern 82¼. Subsequently the market became excited and variable, Erie reaching 50, and New York Central 120¼. The market again reacted before the close, however, and closed dull and unsettled.

At 5:30 renewals of the Erie war had much effect on the market. It also created an uneasy feeling in monetary circles. Cumberland, 36⅝@36⅜; Wells, Fargo & Co. RIVER NEWS.

The river was about stationary last evening with five feet four inches in the channel by the Monongahela marks. A steady rain set in early yesterday morning, and continued almost without cessation throughout the entire day, and there was every appearance last night of another rise. Indeed, we should not be surprised to see our rivers rising to-day.

Business was very dull at the landing yesterday, which was owing in part, at least, to the inclement condition of the weather. Freights, however, have been scarce for several days past.

The New York and R. C. Gray, both arrived from Cincinnati, and they both had good trips.

The Julia No. 2, for Zanesville; Ingomar for Parkersburg; and Kenton for Portsmouth, were the departures.

The Armadillo, Capt. D. H. Swaney, is announced to take her departure this evening for New Orleans, positively.

The Leonidas, Capt. Ed. Evans, is filling up steadily for St. Louis, and the Glasgow, Capt. Andy Robinson, is announced for Cincinnati and Louisville.

The new steamer Arkansas, Capt. A. H. Shaw, it is expected, will be ready to take her departure for New Orleans to-morrow.

SPECIAL NOTICE—The Wild Duck and Barges, Capt. Anawalt, did not get off for St. Louis yesterday, as expected, in consequence of the inclement condition of the weather, but she will leave to-morrow (Thursday) without fail. She will take freight for all intermediate points, including Cincinnati, Louisville, Evansville, Cairo and St. Louis.

The Tom Farrow Barges, will commence receiving immediately after the departure of the Wild Duck.

The J. N. McCullough arrived at Cincinnati on Sunday.

Quite a number of towboats have arrived within the past few days, and we should not be surprised if there was water enough by to-morrow or next day, to let them out again.

—It is stated that Henry Ames will go into the New Orleans and Memphis trade.

—The Camelia, after receiving twenty tons of freight, left Cincinnati on Saturday for Nashville.

—The Ida Rees, en route from Pittsburgh to New Orleans, arrived at Cincinnati on Sunday.

—On the morning of the 10th inst. the steamer Irene sunk in Red river, twenty miles below Shreveport.

—The Armenia, en route from Pittsburgh to St. Louis, passed by Cincinnati on Sunday drawing nearly seven feet.

—The St. Charles was to have left Cincinnati for Pittsburgh on Monday. Among other items, she has 150 tons of hay.

—The snagboat DeRussey will be ten days repairing at Mound City, after which she goes to snag-pulling between Napoleon and Vicksburg. She has a New Albany crew.

—The wharfboats at Cairo are filled to overflowing with Southern freights. The wharfboat proprietors refuse to pay the regular rates, and are trying to force the boats to cut rates.

—The railway bridge over the Mississippi river at Quincy, Illinois, is finished. The first train of cars passed over it on Friday last. The structure is pronouncsd to be very satisfactory in all respects.

—In the case of S. A. Hubbell vs. Western Union Railroad Company, for injuries received by the explosion at the steamboat landing, which has been on trial at Chicago for several days, a verdict in favor of the plaidtiff for $12,000 has been rendered by the jury.

—Captain John Cannon and Capt. Tom. Leathers, we are informed, indulged in a knock down at New Orleans on Saturday. The difficulty arose out of the charter of the Belle Lee by Leathers and his subsequent violation of the charter. Captain Cannon had the best of the fight, our information states.

—In the Superior Court at Cincinnati, on Saturday, in the case of the Nashville Packet Company vs. Thomas Murdock, an action to recover $675, unpaid assessments upon stock of said company, for which the defendant had subscribed, judgment was given in favor of the plaintiffs for the amount named.

—Tne Dubuque Times, of Friday, says: Those who travel up and down the river hereafter, during the rest of the running season, will have to pay double rates. The White Collar Line have advanced their passenger tariff to $15 from here to St. Paul, and $18 to St. Louis. Rates on freight have advanced to 50c per 100 pounds, both to St. Paul and St. Louis. The Northern Line claims to be carrying at the old rates.

—The Louisville and Portland Canal is now in course of enlargement, under the supervision of Gen. Godfrey Weitzel. The plan of the work provides for the construction of a strong crib work and dam accross the crest of the rocks at the head of the falls of the Ohio, opposite Louisville, and another crib dam further down the river, below the foot of the falls. Both dams are to be provided with sluiceways formed by the return wings. The lower sluiceway will be next the Indiana shore, and will be 200 feet wide and 1,200 feet long. The two dams will reduce the falls of the Ohio, in extreme low stages, to 25 feet, thus diminishing the lift of the locks by one foot. It is estimated that the upper dam will cost about $75,000, and the lower one about $175,000. The upper dam saves 3 feet of solid rock excavation along the whole line of the canal. This item, in the extension of the Louisville and Portland Canal, amounts to $270,500. The lower dam saves, in the same work, all the channel rock excavation below the locks, amounting to $190,000. Thus deducting the cost of these two dams from the amount they save, there is a clear gain of $210,500 in the amount required for the enlargement. The materials for this extensive work are to be collected during the winter, so that the contracts can be given out early in the spring.

GOLD closed in New York yesterday at 134¾.

INDIANA gives GRANT a majority of about 9,000, the official returns now including all the counties but four.

AN EVENT, which has been more than once heretofore erroneously announced, is really to occur to-day, in the marriage of Mr. COLFAX, Vice President elect, at Andover, Ohio. The bridal party will proceed immediately to Washington.

MR. VALLANDIGHAM, having accomplished his self-appointed mission, of levelling down his party to his own personal status, has retired from the editorial charge of his journal at Dayton, Ohio, and proposes to enjoy peace under President GRANT.

THE Doylestown Democrat wants to know "why bonds did not go up after the election of Gen. GRANT." That was not an expected consequence, but had SEYMOUR been elected, bonds together with the National credit might have gone up with a vengeance.

GEN. GRANT'S view of the Southern situation is revealed by his late order that all recruits for the army, now at Northern depots, shall be forwarded at once to Texas. It is evident that he regards the condition of affairs in that State to be such as imperatively demands a prompt enforcement of the Federal authority.

THE decadence of the broad-gauge system of railway lines, in popular estimation, is illustrated in the current statement that the Erie Company has finally decided to lay another rail upon it strack, in order to give to the West another unbroken line of narrow-gauge to New York. This was preferred to the other alternative of extending, also by a third rail, the wide-gauge to Chicago.

THE friends of "a white man's government" came to grief in one of the Ohio counties, at the late election. Disregarding the statute of the State, they headed their ballot with the phrase above quoted—their favorite shibboleth. Result, the entire Democratic vote, of the strong Democratic county of Monroe, thrown out entirely by the State canvassers. The local Committee, of intelligent "white" men, propose to repress somewhat their partisan fervor, for the future.

THOSE Democratic journals now crying out against any increase of the President's salary, and charging that Gen. GRANT desires the advance so as to enable him to live in a kingly style, are sorely mistaken in the character of the hero. National economy will mark his administration, and he will be the very last person to increase the Government expenses one dollar. GRANT has already given ont that he is for retrenchment in all departments, and our Democratic friends should wait and see, before they present such unfounded charges against him.

MESSRS. T. W. WRIGHT and THOMAS TELFORD will commence in this city, a few days hence, the publication of a weekly journal devoted exclusively to literature. These gentlemen have the experience and enterprise to warrant the success of their undertaking. The journal will be no second class affair, but well managed and ably conducted, and such as to reflect credit to the city it will represent. It will be known as the Mirror, and some of our ablest writers have been secured as contributors. Mrs. JANE G. SWISSHELM, always a terse and vigorous writer, and an inveterate worker, has been announced as associate editor. We wish the enterprise all the success it is deserving, and trust a generous and intellectual public will not be slow in affording proper encouragement and support to the publishers.

GEN. BUTLER writes to a Louisville paper that the Southern rebels were guilty of what "he must regard as a great crime and still worse blunder." Much of the odium which his political opponents have succeeded in fastening upon Gen. BUTLER is due to their success in persuading the public that, in his ethical code, a blunder is worse than a crime, in its invasion of the moral sense. His friends have found it most difficult to repel this accusation, since the Louisville letter above quoted is not the first instance in which he has made similar avowals. We shall, nevertheless, do the General the justice to believe, that he does not, in the expression, entirely mean what he says and that, in his admiration for a vigorous antithesis of phrase, he has certainly adopted a stereotyped mot which was French in its origin, and decidedly un-American in its latitude of morality.

THE CHANGING SEAT OF EMPIRE.

At the recent election, Pennsylvania polled 650,000 votes, Ohio 515,000 and Illinois over 450,000. It is probable, therefore, that the next census will cause some change in their relative Congressional strength. If our own State retains its twenty-four members, Ohio will also have nineteen members as now, while the Illinois delegation of fourteen will at least be sixteen.

Presuming that the House will number the same as now—say two hundred and forty-three members—the recent large increase in the voting basis in the formerly slave-holding states, must distribute among those States an addition of at least ten and perhaps thirteen or fourteen members. The vigorously expanding States of the West, like Illinois, Indiana, Missouri, Michigan, Iowa, Wisconsin, &c., will also come in for a largely increased proportion in the total number of Representatives. It follows, therefore, that the Eastern and Middle States must lose members, unless they can show an equal increase of population—which is not in consonance with the prevalent belief.

SAN JUAN DEL FUCA.

Whatever disposition our Minister to England may have effected of the question of the Alabama claims, and however persistently our too-much-dined-and-wined plenipotentiary may semi-officially shock the national sentiment of his countrymen by his efforts to persuade Mr. BULL that everything is equally lovely among rebel sympathizers abroad or rebel Ku-Klux assassins at home, let us give him the small credit of having achieved a final adjustment of the last lingering trace of that old Oregon controversy which first commenced more than a quarter of a century since, between this Republic and Great Britain. The treaty of 1846 substantially settled the main point in dispute, leaving only a minor one, and that growing out of the obscure terms of the treaty itself. Mr. POLK's administration subsided from the electioneering demand for "54.40 or fight" to diplomatic reality of the 49th parallel as the agreed Northwestern boundary of the Republic; and the people of each nation expressed their complete satisfaction with that adjustment. But an obscurity appeared in the terms expressing the settlement. By the treaty of '46, the "channel" through the Straits of Fuca and the Gulf of Georgia was made a part of the boundary line. Very soon after it was found that this "channel" was itself a subject for dispute. Our Government claimed that the term meant the westernmost channel, then almost exclusively used for shipping, while England held what was called the Rosario channel, upon quite a different line, to be the true boundary. Not over 120,000 acres of land, in addition to the water area, were covered by this dispute, but it, nevertheless, really involved the entire command of the Straits and, in some degree, of the Georgian Gulf—a matter of vast importance to our naval and maritime interests, as is each day becoming more clearly apparent. Already the whaling and fishing interests of our people in the adjacent waters of the Pacific and the not very remote Behring's Sea, have assumed a very valuable prominence, with a reasonable prospect for an early and large increase. Moreover, the possession of the island of San Juan and the mastery of one of the most capacious and safest harbors in the North Pacific was also dependent on a solution of the controversy. From that day until now, England, having already possession of San Juan del Fuca, has held it, continuing to claim and exercise her sovereignty over all the disputed territory. We are now informed that the controversy is closed, England accepting the American interpretation of the treaty of '46, and surrendering to us as the rightful owners the islands and waters, which are each year becoming essentially more valuable to our interests. The no longer debatable area is now a part of Washington Territory, and its absorption therein closes, we hope forever, the last of our boundary disputes with the English Crown.

OUR PROSPECTS AS A NATION.

In days like these, after the consummation of such stupendous events as the Great Rebellion and its consequences, there is hardly a thoughtful man who does not ask himself the question: What next? What future is in store for us? and then, with strained vision, he seeks to penetrate the veil which a kind fate has suspended between the eyes of mortals and the things to come. Not even the edge can we lift to catch a glance. But, though we are forbidden to look ahead, there is nothing to prevent us from scanning the times gone by, and, by pondering on the past, to catch, as it were, by reflection, a glimpse of the future. The axiom "there is nothing new under the sun" finds its application especially in the history of nations, and on the strength of this truth we shall endeavor to paint what we believe to be in store for us as a people.

A nation is a host of individuals, and the average character of the individual is also the average character of the nation. By dissecting, then, the former, we shall get a pretty true idea of the latter, and the question naturally arises: "What is the true American? If we succeed in solving this query according to truth, we shall find no difficulty in obtaining his horoscope.

The American has, like other human beings, his virtues and his vices, whose character corresponds with his own. They are both generally of a positive character, and the latter often in excess of the former. There is very little of the placid, contemplative element in his nature, and the active, stirring, go-ahead disposition of our people shows itself early in life. Education is often carried on as a desirable speculation, more with the spirit of a person that accumulates a capital to do business with, than that of a scholar who loves knowledge for knowledge's sake, and revels in the realm of new thoughts and discoveries. The boy plays his marbles with the view of gaining, and invests his pennies with that of interest. As he grows, his energy grows with him, and, before he knows it, he has embarked on the current of life, and hoists sail after sail on his craft to be the first to arrive at the goal. And what is this goal? In ninety-nine cases out of the hundred, the acquisition of the almighty dollar, and the advantages derived from its possession. For this purpose he eats and drinks in a hurry, sleeps with a troubled spirit, is blind to the beauties and teachings of nature, and to all the pleasures it scatters on his roadside; is indifferent to real genial intercourse with kindred spirits and the delights of social gatherings, and begrudges to his friends and family all the hours he is compelled to spend in that way. While in pursuit of his object, he is blind to all interests excepting his own. He opens his purse to get rid of the beggar, and thus save precious minutes, and gives his vote at the polls without using his influence in the nomination of the proper candidates, or caring who fills the places, on the duties of which the welfare of the nation so much depends.

This indifference to anything and everything excepting business and its pursnits, is the great besetting sin of the American, and in it we see the cloud that hangs on the horizon of his country, and may sooner or later swell to the gigantic proportions of a gigantic storm, destined to sweep this land and leave destruction in its wake. The snow, descending gently on the fields, forms a warm cover against the icy hand of winter, but coming like the avalanche, is equally destructive to life and property. The rain falling in a drizzling shower, conveys fertility in every drop, while the tearing, foaming floods sweep everything before them in their terrific onset! Of what benefit are the American's generous disposition, his public spirit, his love of liberty and of his country, his other numerous public and private interests, if he allows them all to become neutralized by his besetting weakness? The uninterrupted endless pursuit of business, the monotonous, unceasing heaping of dollar upon dollar have the tendency of enlargening the brain at the expense of the heart, and we rarely find the millionaire to retain that freshness of affection for his family and friends, that benevolent disposition towards mankind, which marked his youthful days.

The American lives fast, for his desire to accomplish the greatest amount of labor in the shortest time, induces him to make the most of the latter. This disposition has the tendency to plunge him often into dissipation and start him on the road to ruin. He does nothing by the half. When he spends and squanders, he does it with a royal air; when he gambles, he stakes fortunes on a card; when he embezzles, he aims at hundreds of thousands, and shows in every way and manner that he is the same earnest, eager, pushing, energetic being, in vice as in virtue.

We thus find no difficulty in pointing out the dangers which await our people in their career as a nation. What has ruined Republics before this? Greece and Rome became a prey to their foes when their spirit began to slacken, when they preferred the gratification of their senses to the fulfillment of those high duties which their prerogatives, as sovereign peoples, as Republicans, imposed upon them; when the enjoyment of every luxury had banished that original simplicity of their manners and effeminated the nerves and sinews of their bodies. We suffer from a different evil; for though we share with them the love of and indulgence in luxuries of every description, we are not, like them, in danger of losing our national existence by an over-indulgence in effeminate pleasures. In fact, our danger lies the other way; for while these glorious republics of antiquity died the death of gluttons, whose extravagance had destroyed the organs of the body, we rush with the neglect of necessary recreation into a turmoil of business, the feverish heat of which is apt to consume our strength and quicken our decease by corrosion.

We should like to see our people act on the principle that "fast and fairly goes far." We would not want to stop them from the pursuits of gain; but we would want them to use it while they make it and not postpone its enjoyment to a time when they are incapable of enjoying anything. Let our people study the meaning of the German word "Gemuezthlichkeit," and apply the meaning to their social habits, and they will gain that element of stateliness, grace and stability which is totally incompatible with their hurried movements.

We have not half enough holidays; such as we want, to throw off, for the while, the care and wear and toil and trouble of our daily routine, in order to grow young again and take with us for to-morrow's labor a renovated mind and body; to take us by the shoulders, and shake us heartily, and awaken us to the consciousness of the fact that youth is transitory, life is short and the pursuit of joy and happiness in part the destination of our race.

Our citizens should also take a more active part in the surveillance of public officers, and instead of cursing those that are dishonest, assist in electing merely such, as are not. And nobody will deny that this requires immediate and close attention. A nation whose officers are corrupt, will soon be corrupt all over.

With these needful reforms a glorious future may be in store for us. Even if neglected we may prosper for a while, for so great is the inheritance that has fallen to the share of the children of this land, that it cannot easily be squandered. But at last, as surely as night follows the day, the existence of this nation will be imperiled, and its ruin will be heralded, if we do not, as a people, relax our dizzy chase after lucre, simplify our extravagance, mode of living, abandon the pursuit of artificial pleasures for those of nature's offering, and with unswerving fidelity and earnestness, watch the ship of state, so as to allow none to hold but such as will steer us with prudence, honesty and steadiness, on the course of time's ocean.

SOME OF THE DISFRANCHISED.

The reader can form a very correct idea of the class of people whom "Radical usurpations" still exclude from all the privileges of citizenship, in the rebel States, if he remembers that the atrocious scoundrel, WINDER, who is gibbeted in the statement hereto annexed, is one of them. We quote from an account of Andersonville, written by a surgeon in the rebel army:

To complete his precautions for the safe keeping of his charge, or to quell any disposition to revolt, he had placed, through Gen. Winder's orders, a battery of six pieces of artillery, which commanded the whole interior of the prison, snd which was kept charged with grape and canister, ready for instant service. The orders to the officer in command were to "sweep the stockade" if there was any appearance of mutiny, or any unusual crowding together of its inmates.

The artillerists were on duty at night as well as in the day, and were relieved at their guns as regularly as were the customary sentinels on guard. The position of the battery upon a hill and overlooking the prison, while it commanded its whole interior, was such that, if the order had ever been given to fire, its hurtling grape would have borne death and desolation to many thousands.

When General Kilpatrick, of the Union army, was expected to advance in his raid as far as Andersonville, the following order was issued:

ORDERS NO. 13.
HEADQUARTERS CONFEDERATE STATES MILITARY PRISON,
ANDERSONVILLE, July 27, 1864.

The officer on duty and in charge of the battery of "Florida Artillery" at the time will, upon receiving notice that the enemy have approached within seven miles of this post, open fire upon the stockade with grapeshot, without reference to the situation beyond these lines of defence.

It is better that the last Federal be exterminated than be permitted to burn and pillage the property of loyal citizens, as they will do if allowed to make their escape from the prison.

By order of John H. Winder, Brigadier General. W. S. WINDER,
Assistant Adjutant General.

Upon the promulgation of this sanguinary and barbarous order, a citizen of Sumpter county and an arch secessionist, who happened to be with the militia force called out by the Governor of Georgia for the defence of Andersonville, remonstrated with General Winder against its inhumanity. The reply was: "Sir, I will kill the last d—d Yankee in that stockade before Sherman or Kilpatrick shall release them! Ged d—n my soul if I would not rather see those twenty thousand scoundrels blown to hell than go to Heaven myself!"

SUNSHINE AND SHADOW IN NEW YORK. By Matthew Hale Smith. Hartford: J. M. Burr & Co.

The author, Mr. Smith, is the well-known newspaper correspondent, Burleigh, and from the varied and rather Bohemian life he has led, is peculiarly fitted for writing just such a book as the one before us. "From grave to gay, from lively to severe; from John Jacob Astor to Fernando Wood, from Fifth Avenue and Brown to the 'Old Bowery' and the Five Points," this volume carries us. It introduces us to the secrets of the great New York enterprises, to the Adams' Express Company, and Harper's Publishing House, to the prominent divines, and the loathsome outcasts of the great American Babylon. We wander, dazzled by the astounding facts of the great city from the masked ball at the Academy to the dance house in the "slums." Night and day we rush along with the tide of humanity, appalled at the sights and yet trusting in our guide, whose thorough knowledge of and familiarity with most of the subjects is always evident. Vice, in her most naked, as well as in her most enticing forms, is here depicted; sensual pleasures, and their speedy and horrible results are shown to us, and, although wickedness and crime, debauchery and misery are freely commented upon, we feel, when we complete the inspection, that this panorama of actual life has been shown us for our advantage, and we are forced to acknowledge that the moral is pointed and unavoidable.

But crime and glitter are not by any means all that we see in this mirror of the passing times. We see in this glass Stewart, Astor, Belmont, Greeley, Beecher, Vanderbilt and Dix; we get glimpses of the interiors of those busy hives, the New York newspaper houses; we delight in the good work of the Christian Association, and enjoy the quiet Sunday in the great Metropolitan churches. In short, we see New York as it is, without the trouble and expense of searching for the sights ourselves. The book is one which will well repay perusal, and the agent, Mr. E. Clark, will see that all in this neighborhood shall have an opportunity of possessing it if they wish.

THE appointment of Judge KIRKPATRICK is thus referred to by the Harrisburg Guard:

"He is a lawyer of admitted qualification, and a popular and influential citizen of Pittsburgh, and will, doubtless, so discharge his duties as to indicate the wisdom of the selection made in his case by Gov. Geary."

The Funeral of Ex-Governor Tod.

The funeral ceremonies were held at Brier Hill, the old-time and beautiful residence of the Ex-Governer—a low-storied, vine-clad, tree-embowered cottage, situate two miles north of Youngstown, on the Mahoning Railroad, and upon the summit of the valley slope, commanding a magnificent view of the blue hills of the Mahoning. Within a few rods of this spot Governor Tod was born on the 21st day of February, 1805, and here, in the well-loved home where he had spent the happy hours of domestic life, he died, as he had hoped to die, at home. Here his remains were laid, and here those who honored his life, and mourned his death, gathered to his funeral obsequies. From Sharon and Newcastle came a special train, fully as large as that from Cleveland, while the population of all Mahoning county and half of Trumbull came in carriages, buggies, wagons and the et cetera of vehicles to the sad center at Brier Hill. The cottage was filled with the mourning relatives of the dead Governor, while the lawns around were thronged with the attending multitude.

From eight to ten thousand people were present at the ceremonies. The body was laid in one of the parlors of the cottage. Upon the coffin was the simple inscription:

DAVID TOD,
Born February 21, 1805,
Died November 13, 1868.

The funeral services were conducted by Rev. Samuel Maxwell, of Youngstown. All the churches suspended services in order to allow their congregations to be present.

After the burial services had been read, brief addresses were made by Governor Hayes, Hon. Sam. Galloway, and General James A. Garfield. Governor Hayes spoke briefly and effectively. He said that the assembled multitude had come together to attend the funeral ceremony of the man whom the people of Ohio most loved. On such an occasion, there were only three ways of expression—in solemn song, in prayer and in silence. For himself, he chose the latter.

Mr. Galloway paid a most earnest and eloquent tribute to the personal worth and integrity of the deceased, referring especially to the hatred of oppression, whether of the individual or of the class, which always characterized him, and which made him a Democrat in the truest sense of the word.

General Garfield spoke with singular force and beaty. He said that in this event two eternities touch each other—the eternity of life and the eternity of death. He spoke with much feeling and effect of the services of Governor Tod to the country, and of his virtues as a private citizen. He very feelingly alluded to the frequently expressed wish of the Governor that he might be allowed to die at Brier Hill, and to its realization now.

After these ceremonies the remains were removed to a finely draped catafalque upon the lawn, and the people allowed to pass by and take a farewell of their friend and leader. —Cleveland Leader.

Opinions of the Press.

(From the Upper Dauphin Register.)

The North and West having the right to claim the candidate, and Mr. Schofield being undoubtedly the best and most available man for that office, we have a strong belief that he will become the successor of the Copperhead Buckalew, and a faithful representative of the interests and sentiments of the Keystone State.

(From the Upper Dauphin Register)

The Republican party cannot afford to be deprived of Gov. Geary as their candidate for re-election next year. He is a good canvasser, a popular Governor and can easily be re-elected; his administration being approved by people of all parties who are willing to bestow impartial judgment upon an able, faithful and conscientious Executive.

[From the (Pottsville) Miner's Journal.]

The honored Chief Executive of this State is named for re-nomination. His distinguished service in the Union armies will ever continue a bright page in the history of the Republic. And it is a source of great gratification to the people of this State that his services as Governor have been in a great measure as valuable. His course on all matters affecting the welfare and prosperity of the State, and the happiness of its citizens, has been actuated by conscientious motives, and while he has firmly opposed evils he has had the moral courage to be independent. We believe that the brave soldier and incorruptible Magistrate can be re-elected by a larger majority than that which he received in 1866.

[From the Carlisle Herald.]

When Andrew Johnson apostatized and our prospect was injured by reason of the desertion of many of our oldest and most trusted leaders in 1866, John W. Geary seized our standard in this State and carried it through one of the bitterest and hottest campaigns known in our history to a grand and glorious victory. In the Gubernatorial chair he has proven a most efficient and faithful officer, and we believe there will be no serious opposition to his renomination. Of his ability to carry our standard again to victory there can be no doubt, and, surely, his most excellent administration entitles him to be the choice of every fair-minded patriot in the State.

[From the Berks and Schuylkill Journal.]

As things look now Governor Geary will have little or no opposition for re-nomination. He has made an excellent Chief Magistrate and deserves to be re-elected.

IS SICKNESS AVOIDABLE?

Thousands toss on sick-beds to-day who might have been well and hearty, had they taken due precautions for the preservation of that most precious of earthly blessings, a sound mind in a sound body. Sickness, to a greater extent than most people suppose, is avoidable. When the body is languid, the spirits depressed, and the nervous system unnaturally sensitive, it should be taken for granted that mischief is brewing. These hints and warnings, vouchsafed as such by a kind Providence, ought not to be disregarded. If they are slighted, as is too generally the case, the next thing may be a fever, a severe bilious attack, or some other form of acute disease. They indicate as clearly as if the intimation were given in articulate language, that the animal functions are disordered, and the system debilitated. Under these circumstances, the ONLY THING TO BE DONE IS TO REGULATE AND RESTORE, and the BEST REGULATING AND RESTORATIVE PREPARATION EVER USED FOR THE PREVENTION OF SICKNESS is HOSTETTER'S STOMACH BITTERS. In this way, bilious remittent fever, chills and fever, spasms, nervous paroxysms, violent attacks of indigestion, and all the ordinary epidemics, may almost certainly be averted. They are usually preceded by the symptoms described, and surely it is wisdom to forestall them by resorting to an antidote at once harmless, agreeable and invigorating. Most assuredly, it will soon dissipate the unpleasant feelings referred to; which, of course, is desirable, even if they were not likely to lead to something worse. The close of the Fall is usually accompanied by unhealthy fogs and violent atmospheric changes, and it is therefore a season when in vigoration is particularly needed.

LET ANY ONE TRY A FEW BOTTLES OF DR. KEYSER'S LUNG CURE AND IT WILL ESTABLISH ITS MERITS BEYOND CONTROVERSY.

We feel, in whatever we say in its behalf, that we are conferring a benefit upon thousands of people who would be benefitted by its use. Take any large audience or gathering of people, pay attention for a moment, and see if one out of every ten is not afflicted with a cough. There is no cough without some difficulty of the throat or lungs—trifling it may be at the outset, but gradually growing more and more fearful, until the constitution, at last, is made to succumb to its ravages; and what would have yielded in the beginning to a few doses of medicine has become a fearful lesion, involving life itself. No one can be too careful at this season of the year, to the first premonitors of pulmonary disease, and when a remedy like the one we have named, is within the means of all, the salutary advice which we have given should not be disregarded, Sold at the great Medicine Depot, 140 Wood street.

Pacific Railway Projects.

A St. Louis telegram says: The railroad combinations, as affecting our State and the National Legislature, are attracting considerable attention here, owing to a coalition between the A. & P. and the U. P. E. D. roads to obtain an indorsement of the State Legislature to their application for Congressional subsidies. Last winter these two companies opposed each other, the latter trying to obtain a subsidy to build a road to the Pacific via Albuquerque, the route of the former, instead of connecting with the Central Pacific via Denver. The present arrangement is said to be a virtual consolidation of the two companies, whereby a mammoth land grant is to be obtained, the U. P. E. D. to build a road both to Arizona and Denver, and the A. & P. to put theirs through to the Pacific on the original route, both connecting at Albuquerque. The coalition is a very strong one, the A. & P. road having Boston, and the other Philadelphia, capital as its backers—a strength which, joined with memorials from Kansas and Missouri, is expected to sweep away New York and Chicago opposition.

THE avowed purpose of large numbers of armed men in the country to join the insurgents in Cuba, will probably be brought before the President, who, in pursuance of his oath of office, may find it necessary to issue his proclamation, commanding them to desist from their unlawful intentions.

The payment of the sum assessed upon each car to be made one month after the beginning of the first period of five years, and at the same date annually thereafter and the said cars shall be numbered under the ordinances of said city regulating licenses of said vehicles. The President of said Company shall annually, on the first Monday of July in each year, make a written return under oath to the Controller, of said city, of the number of cars which may, at any time during the year, run upon said road, and the books of said Company shall at all times be open to the inspection of the Finance Committee or any other Committee, appointed for that purpose by Councils.

FINANCE AND TRADE.

OFFICE OF THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE, TUESDAY, November 17, 1868.

There was still great excitement to-day in Wall street; prices of gold were very strong in the morning at 136¼, from which the market suddenly broke to 134¾, again rising to 135½, and closing at from 134½ to 134¾, with a firm market; the transactions were enormous, and one per cent. per day was charged for the loan of gold, thus making it a loss to speculate on the decline, even at a difference of one-half per cent.

Bonds had advanced at the first board about ¼ per cent., but after the decline, gold bonds sold from ½ to ¾ per cent. less, and although firmly held, the transactions were on a limited scale. Should money become scarce, a temporary decline in bonds is expected before the meeting of Congress.

Stocks were much excited, and the knowing ones predict that the decline is only temporary, and that the Erie clique, with Mr. Keep at the head, have a large amount of money engaged till the end of the year, and expect to carry their favorite stocks, Erie, North Western and Milwaukee & St. Paul higher than they were at any time this season. The market is completely demoralized.

Money is easier here, and can be had on call at 8 per cent., and on governments at 7 per cent.

Business is improving.

CRUDE.

The market is quiet but steady, and, if anything, the feeling is a shade stronger than it was yesterday. We can report 2,000 bbls, (40 to 46 gravity) on spot, at 10c; 2,000 do (40 to 45 gravity at 10c; 1,000 do (40 to 45) at 10c; 3,000 do at 10c—total sales, in the aggregate, eight thousand barrels. Gravity continues to be made a strong point by refiners, and those who have bought 40 to 45, refuse to take anything else. As we have repeatedly remarked, this particular gravity is scarce both, here and above, and those who have contracts calling for 40 to 45, find it difficult to get.

REFINED

Also continues steady and firm with an upward tendensy, and particularly is the case in regard to "lines" for next year. The first half of 1869 is in demand at 28, with an offer reported at 29; the last half may be fairly quoted at 32¼ to 33. Sale of 1,000 bbls last half of November at 27; 500 each from March to July, inclusive, at 30¼ and we are cognizant of an offer to buy 1,000 bbls on spot at 26½, which is an advance of a quarter; the last of half of November is also better, 27 against 26½, yesterday.

PITTSBURGH MARKETS.

OFFICE OF THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE, TUESDAY, November 17, 1868.

The inclement condition of the weather has a tendency to restrict out door business, which, at best, is dull, but we still indulge in the hope that an improvement is near at hand. The upward turn in Chicago on Monday has infused a little more back-bone into Flour and Grain dealers, and many of them have now come to the conclusion that the bottom has been touched, though, as yet, they are afraid to act upon their conviction. The truth is, they have been deceived so many times within the past two or three months, and have become so completely demoralized, that some of them are almost frightened of their own shadow, and would be afraid to take advantage of a good opening unless it was reduced almost to a certainty.

APPLES—Continue to arrive freely, and while the market is dull, prices are unchanged, ranging from $3 to $4 per bbl, as to quality.

APPLE BUTTER—Unchanged at 70 to 75 in kegs, and 80 to 85 in crocks.

CHESTNUTS—Quiet and unchanged; small sales at $6,50 per bushel.

MESS PORK—Stock of old almost exhausted; sales of new at $28 to $28,50.

LARD OIL—Is scarce, and No. 1 Winter strined is in steady demand at $1,50.

GRAIN—Wheat is dull, and unchanged; No. 1 Winter is quoteñ at $1,75 to $1,80—Sale 1 car No. 1 Spring at $1,35. Oats dull but holders are firm, evincing a disposition to store rather than make concessions; we continue to quote at 63 to 64, on wharf, and the usual advance for small lots in store. Corn is very dull; old may be fairly quoted at $1 to $1,05 for mixed to prime yellow, and new at 70 to 75. Rye is dull and irregular; we quote nominally at $1,33 to $1,35. Barley is unsettled, and irregular, and there is not enough doing to establish quotations.

HAY—Sales at Allegheny Dimond market of 47 loads at $22 to $34. Baled Hay continues very dull, and is nominal at $18 to $24, as to quality.

CORN HUSKS—Sales 3½ per lb.

POTATOES—Quiet and unchanged; sales on track at 75 in bulk, and 80, sacked. Jersey Sweets $4,50 to $5 per bbl.

ONIONS—Continue very dull; small sales at $1,50 per bushel.

SALT—Is in steady demand, and we can report regular sales at $1,75 on track, and $1,90 to $2, in store.

HOMINY—Is quoted at $6,50 to $7 per barrel.

TALLOW—Prime rendered is in steady demand at 12c.

FLOUR—The market is a shade firmer, under the influence of the advices from Chicago, but the demand does not seem to have improved much, and prices are unchanged. We continue to quote Spring Wheat brands at $7 to $8, for fair to choice. Rye Flour, $8,25. The Pearl Mill prices are for Extra Family in bbls, $9,90 and in sacks $9.60 per bbl; Double Extra Family in barrels $10,40. and in sacks $10,10 per barrel. City Mills quote prices as follows: Extra Family, in barrels, $9,80, and in sacks, $9,50; Double Extra Family, in barrels, $10,30, and in sacks, $10 per bbl.

WHISKY—Is quiet and unchanged at $1,20 for both Highwines and Rectified.

THE LAKE SUPERIOR IRON REGION.

NUMBER TWO.

[Correspondence of the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

Mining.

Great skill is not required in working the mines; indeed, strictly speaking, this is not mining at all; it is simply quarrying. Mining proper, by shafting, "stoping," "whim" and "kibble," is resorted to in but one of the mines, the Edwards. For the rest, the mineral is reached in the upheaval, or "mountain," as the miners term these mineral ridges. These are generally masses of the iron rock, upheaved generally at an angle of 45 degrees, and some 100 to 200 feet above the level of the surrounding country. The regularity of geological stratification is not perceptible to any but the scientist. The line of fracture is found at all angles, and the pure mineral is contorted, twisted, overlaid and interlaid by silicious strata, in the most erratic irregularity. The scientific eye professes to see regularity, and to trace the geological laws throughout the horizon. For ourselves, we "could not see it." We only saw iron in untold quantities, of wonderful purity, and occurring in the most irregular regularity—here a vast "island" of rock, surrounded by pure mineral, then a vein of mineral, twisting through walls of rock, and anon developing into an immense "pocket" of the same. Here you find quartzose boulders, overlying the mineral, then greenstone. The operation of mining consists in blasting from a ledge of ore, large masses, which are subsequently broken into fragments by other blasts, by the sledge, or by means of fire. The holes are worked by good steel drills, a short one being at first used, and the length increased as the drill progresses from ten to eighteen feet in depth. One man holds the drill, while seated, while two stout strikers, on either side, with heavy steel sledges, apply all the force. They do not often miss their mark, and "find" the fingers of the leader, although such instances are recorded in the history of the mines. Sand blasts are, usually, first applied, to start the fracture, sometimes two or three such, before the final blasting charge of from one to one and a half kegs of blasting powder is applied. The effect of such a blast, in such material, is terrific; in March, 1864, at the Jackson mine, a hole of eighteen feet deep and two inches in diameter, was exploded, bringing down from a perpendicular face some four thousand tons of ore! The ore is broken into fragments of convenient size for handling, loaded into carts of one ton each, hauled to the dump, close by, and dumped into the four wheeled hopper cars, trains of which always stand on the siding, ready to receive their load of eight to ten tons. These cars are furnished by the railroad, as well as the shifting engines to make up the trains. When loaded, an ordinary locomotive will take from fifty to seventy cars, to Marquette or Escanaba, back them in upon the ore dock, and by a system of shutes and aprons, rapidly deposit the entire cargo in the hold of the vessels moored alongside, for transportation to Cleveland or Erie.

The laborers at the mines usually contract by the gross ton; the price varies at the several mines, and at different locations in the same mine; from fifty cents to one dollar and a half per gross ton, including stripping, tools, powder and delivering on board the cars, may be taken as the range of prices paid for mining. Very strict rules are adopted to prevent lean ores from being included with what is intended for shipping. Commercial usage has made the average standard for shipping ores at about sixty per cent., furnace yield. As the mineral is more or less mixed, at all the mines, that which, from admixture with sand rock, or silicious shale, would run below this standard, is rejected, and the miner who permits a lump of mixed ore to get into his cart load, even as large as his fist, is fined one-fourth ton as a penalty. This, with the watchfulness of the mining "Captain," is the guarantee of quality from the mine.

The average product of each laborer, including all whose names are on the pay roll—miners, drivers, trackmen, repairers, etc., is about two tons per day, of eight hours, per man.

The mines are usually worked by the companies owning them; we remember a single exception, the Edwards, where Pittsburgh parties have a lease for a term of years, at twenty-five cents per ton royalty, and contract to take out at least 10,000 tons per annum. This is a very good lease; we presume the owners could sell out at a very considerable advance, as the ore is of excellent quality.

The railroad freight from Negaunee to Marquette, by the Marquette road is ninety-one cents per ton, distance fourteen miles; by the Peninsula branch of C. & N. W. road, to Escanaba, sixty-five miles, the freight is $1,50 per ton. But as this port is at a point on the lower lake, which is open some weeks earlier in the spring, and later in the autumn, and some 150 miles nearer Erie or Cleveland, saving time and tolls through the Sault Ste Marie canal, the Lake freights from Escauaba are from $1,00 to $1,50 per ton less than from Marquette. The shipping arrangements at both ports are of the best character. Extensive and well arranged docks, with the track laid out thereon, so as to convey the ores direct from the cars to the vessel, without handling. Escanaba furnishes fourteen feet of water, and vessels of 1,200 tons are engaged in the ore trade from this port. We believe the water in the Sault canal is only about eight feet, and vessels entering Lake Superior are accordingly limited in size and tonage.

When the Lakes are closed in winter, the Peninsula Company have arranged to store the ore in immense stock bins, erected by the Company at Escanaba, so as to furnish winter occupation for their road. These bins have a capacity of some twenty thousand tons, are constructed of strong timbers, some twenty feet high, hopper bottomed, and are several hundred feet in length. A train of hopper cars is run upon the bins, dumped in; and when, in the spring, shipping begins, the train receives the ore again from a lower siding, through shoots from these bins, the product of each mine having been kept seperate,

The Lake freight from Marquette to Cleveland is from $3 to $4 dollars per ton, from Escanaba $2 to $2,50, thence to Pittsburgh $2,50. The price of shipping ore at the mines will average $4; so that the cost of these ores in Pittsburgh may be set down at about $11 per ton, for ore yielding an average of sixty per cent of iron.

Some idea of the profits of the mines may be gathered from the above facts. The total investment in an iron mine, outside the real estate, as most of these Superior mines are situated, is very inconsiderable. The railroad companies, competing for freights, extend their tracks to the mines and furnish cars and motive power. Most of the mines commence in an upheaved ridge of naked mineral, so that neither drainage or stripping is necessary to any extent. From the very commencement it may be said shipping ores are obtained. The chief outlay necessary would be for houses for miners, tools, horses, carts, &c. But the miners pay rent for their houses, and pay for their tools and teams, contracting at so much per ton. Taking 50c per ton as a fair royalty for the mineral, and the outside cost of mining at $1.50 per ton, would show the total cost of ore on board the cars at the mines at $2 per ton. It is to-day worth $4—profit to the mining companies $2 per ton. The profits of the twelve mines now working, for the current year, cannot fall short of $1,000,000. The capital stock paid up may be put down at about $3,000,000. So that the average earnings of all the mines is at least 33 per cent. of their joint capital. As some of these mines are new, and the production as yet limited; and as we include the entire capital in the above estimate, it will be seen that the actual profits of the productive mines is much greater.

We have other matters of interest, relating to this subject, which we will endeavor to prepare for a future article. R.

Petroleum Items.

The Fisher Brothers of Oil City, have struck a new one hundred barrel well at Tidioute.

The new well on the Shamburg Petroleum Company's property, Upper Cherry Run, owned by Lockhart & Frew, John Bates, W. H. Abbott and others, is now producing eighty barrels per day. It was struck recently.

The President Petroleum Company, owning lands near President on the Allegheny river, have leased one thousand acres to Abraham James, who struck the Harmonial well, No. 1, at Pleasantville. There are two or three wells in the vicinity of President which have been producing a few barrels per day for a year or two past, and from this it is certain that oil can be found in the vicinity, but the territory has not been sufficiently tested to determine whether it will be of any great value or not.

The Allegheny Transportation Company will commence pumping oil from the National wells and vicinity by their new pipe line to Miller Farm or Pithole, in about a week. There are now sixty-four thousand barrels of iron tankage in course of erection at the Miller farm.

THE store of the Workingmen's Co-operative Society in Halifax, England, is a handsome stone building, erected at a cost of $100,000. The basement contains seven shops belonging to the society—a butcher's, a provision, a boot and shoe, a linen draper's, a grocer's, a woolen draper's and a tailer's. On the second floor are coffee-rooms for the members of the society, male or female, reading-rooms, a dining-room, and a smoking-room. Various other conveniences are provided for the fortunate association, and the whole building, it is stated, is fitted up with an elegance and a liberality not surpassed by the best London clubs. The association has a farm of sixty acres, situated about a mile from Halifax, where grain is grown and sheep are raised. The members and their families go out to this spot and enjoy themselves at rural festivals. The association commenced operations in 1849, and lived through a long period of discouragement. At present the association numbers five thousand members. Its yearly sales in 1866 had reached $600,000; its profits $60,000, exclusive of a sum set apart for books, lectures and newspapers.

TWENTY-FOUR bills of indictments have been found in New York against persons concerned in the manufacture of fraudulent naturalization papers. These indictments are in addition to those returned last week.

THE ETNA HOMICIDE.

The case of the Commonwealth vs. Ephraim Kent, indicted for the murder of Robert Calhoun, was taken up. Our readers will remember that Calhoun was killed at Etna on the evening of the 8th of September last, under the following circumstances:

Four young men from Allegheny were out riding in buck wagons, the deceased and Charles Murphy occupying one of the wagons. They visited Young's tavern in the borough and afterwards drove to Mrs. Hannah's. Having failed to get in at the latter place, Calhoun and Murphy drove back to Matter's tavern, when the latter jumped out and hitched the horse in front of the house. Several residents of Etna were standing in front of the house when the parties drove up, George Evans being among the number. A quarrel arose between Evans and Murphy, and during the fight which ensued a shot was fired, which took effect in Calhoun's breast, causing instant death. Murphy was charged with having fired the shot, and was arrested and committed to jail. Some time after and before the Coroner's investigation had been concluded, information was received which seemed to point to Kent as the person who fired the shot. He was arrested and Murphy was released.

The defendant was arraigned in the usual manner, and plead not guilty. District Attorney Duff appeared on behalf of the prosecution, and Gen. F. H. Collier and A. M. Brown, Esq., on the part of the defendant.

The following jurors were sworn in the case: John McIlwain, Robert Hall, James McKain, Robert Clugston, Wm. Barnhill, James Henderson, John Duffey, John Zeh, W. D. Bois, Henry Zessler, Washington Jarvis, Richard Bowen. Before the jury was secured eighteen were challenged by the defense, and two by the Commonwealth.

District Attorney opened the case for the prosecution, and indicated the facts which the prosecution expected to establish. He then proceeded to call witnesses, when the following testimony was elicited:

David Reed, sworn.—Lived at Etna in September last; was there the night Robert Calhoun was killed; helped to carry him in the house, at about ten o'clock; when I went into my boarding house to go to bed Kent and two others were at the door; heard buggies or some vehicles come up; soon after a quarrel began; looked out and heard a man say he would shoot any son of a b—h who would lay hands upon him; Kent commanded the peace, some words followed, and Murphy struck Kent and then knocked a man named Evans down; after that a shot was fired; Kent was at the corner of the house when the shot was fired; he was asking admittance and protection; saw the shot fired, and it came from near the gate of Ackerman's house; it was about fifteen feet from where Kent stood; heard no other shot fired; Calhoun was then on the roadway, and Murphy was beating Evans; found Calhoun lying on the street, and helped carry him in; Calhoun was shot in the left breast; he was taken into Matter's house; Dr. McQuade was there before he was taken in.

Cross-examined.—Went up to Etna on the 9:20 train, and when I arrived at my boarding house Matters, Kent and others were there; the buck wagons had not then arrived, and all was quiet; It was about ten minutes after I went in the house when the buggies came up, the occupants were making a noise, singing, etc.; two buck waggons drove by when I got up and looked out; they then returned, and Murphy said he was a shooting little son of a b——h from Cleveland; when they came up this time they were wrangling about who treated last; Kent demanded peace, saying he was an officer, and Murphy knocked Kent down and then took the buggy whip and went at Evans.

Jacob Matter, sworn—Live at Etna, and this affair occurred near my house; a disturbance was created at the door after I had shut up the house; heard some one demanding peace in the name of the Commonwealth; heard a shot fired and afterward a demand for admittance was made by Kent; was then told that a man was shot; went up stairs and looked out of the window and saw Calhoun; after examining the body I went for Dr. McQuade, not knowing the man was dead.

Mrs. Ackerman, sworn—Live near Matter's; heard some noise on the street the night the shooting was done; heard a fight and some person beating another, and afterwards heard a shot fired. After the shot heard some one say, "you have shot my partner;" also heard some one call for water.

John Russell, sworn—I formerly resided in Etna; was in Young's tavern when Calhoun and Murphy came in; they had tied up their buck wagon; don't know what occurred at Matter's.

On cross-examination the witness stated that Murphy and Calhoun were trying to raise a fight, but were not permitted to do so.

John Hillerbiddle, sworn—Reside at Etna and remember the night of the 9th of September; was standing near Matter's and saw Murphy and Calhoun drive past; they went down to Mrs. Hannah's, but did not go in; they then drove up and stopped in front of Matter's house; Murphy jumped out of the buck wagon and said he was a son of a b— from Cleveland and could whip any son of a b— in the crowd; I caught hold of Mr. Post, who was with me, and started home; while we were on the Freeport road heard a shot fired, and about a minute afterwards saw a man running down the road. Did not see who fired the shot.

Dr. A. G. McQuade, sworn—Was called to see deceased on the night he was shot; found him lying in the road near Matte'rs house; life was extinct when I reached him; made a post mortem examination next day. [The witness here stated the character of the wound and the direction the ball had taken.] The wound was sufficient to cause death. The person who fired the shot was evidently above deceased when the shot was fired; suppose so from the nature of the wound.

M. E. Post, sworn—I was at Etna the night Calhoun was shot; was standing in front of the tavern with Geo. Kent and two others when two brick wagons drove up: Murphy jumped out of the wagon and said he was a son of a b—h from Cleveland, and could whip any son of a b—h in the crowd; Mr. Hitterbiddle and I then started away, and had gone but a short distance up the road when I heard a shot fired and saw a man running down the road; do not know who fired the shot.

Morris Ackerman sworn—Live in Etna, near Matter's; was in the house when I heard the fuss; when I heard the noise I went outside; Matter told me to come in and shut the door; did not go in; heard some one say he could whip any one in the crowd; just then I heard a lick struck and saw some one beating Evans; then heard the shot fired; saw the flash of the pistol; the shot was fired from the corner of our fence; while the fuss was going on I saw a man with a white hat on beating Mr. Evans with a wagon whip, and he asked Evans if he would give in. After the shot was fired I saw two men running away; two men ran past me, Mr. Helterbiddle and Mr. Post.

Jacob Matter, recalled—There is a path along the side of the street in front of my house; it is about two feet above the level of the road: Calhoun was lying with his heels next to the brick wagon which was standing by my sign post, and his head was toward the middle of the road; his head was lower than his heels.

Charles Murphy, sworn—I knew Robert Calhoun; I was with him on the 8th of September last; we were together in a buck wagon: we started from Allegheny about eight o'clock in the evening. We drove up to Etna and I jumped out of the wagon and ran across the street; when I came back I found three or four men beating Calhoun; I interfered and got the men off him, and when we had got near to the buck wagon I heard a shot fired, and Calhoun said he was shot. He then fell back and died in about two minutes. I did not see Kent that night to the best of my knowledge; did not see the shot fired; do not know who fired it; did not have a pistol with me that night.

William Clawson, sworn—I am coroner of this county; I visited Mr. Kent, at his house; I had some conversation with him in regard to the shooting. He said he did not mean to shoot any person, but pulled his pistol and shot among them to alarm the neighbors. I told Kent that I would want him as a witness.

Cross Examined.—He told me that there was considerable excitement at the time, and that he had been knocked down.

Seth Wilmot, sworn—I saw Kent after he was arrested; I had some conversation with him about the shooting of Calhoun; he said he was an officer, and had come down to Stewartstown or Etna on business on the night that it occurred; while he was there talking to a shoemaker some parties drove up in two buck wagons and raised a fuss; he told them, he said, that he was an officer, and that they must not fight there; one of the parties, he said, put his hand in his breast pocket and he told him not to shoot, and the man then struck him and knocked him down; he (Kent) then pulled out his pistol and shot it down toward the ground for the purpose of alarming the citizens; he then started home; he said he did not think he had shot anybody, at least he did not intend to do so.

The testimony on the part of the Commonwealth here closed, and the case was opened for the defence by Major A. M. Brown.

A number of witnesses were then called to testify to the previous good character of the defendant.

The hour of adjournment having arrived, and as it was the desire of all concerned in the case to conclude it, the Court ordered a recess of half an hour.

Court met again at four P. M., when the testimony for defense was resumed.

Joseph Evans, sworn—The fellow with the Panama hat knocked me down; did not hear any shot fired; was attacked near Nichol's house, opposite Matter's house; the place was near A. Merman's corner; was knocked down on the side-walk.

On cross examination witness stated that it was Charles Murphy that struck him; he had on a light felt hat; he struck witness with a buggy whip; did not know what Kent and Calhoun were doing.

Mr. Hilderbiddle was called and testified that no person struck Calhoun up to the time of the attack on Evans.

Mr. Reed, re-called—Murphy and the other man drove up, and Murphy was the first man to jump out, and he struck the first blow.

Dr. McQuade recalled—Examined the man who was shot; the direction of the ball was downward; it entered below the neck and lodged in the right lung; it passed directly through the fifth rib; the wound must have been given by a weapon held above the point at which the ball entered.

Several other witnesses were called to establish the fact that the fatal shot was fired from a point higher up than that which it was shown the defendant occupied.

At the close of the testimony, counsel agreed to submit the case without argument, when Judge Sterrett proceeded to charge the jury.

The jury retired at half-past four o'clock and in about ten minutes they came into Court with a verdict of not guilty.

The prisoner was at once discharged, and was warmly congratulated by his friends.

Fatal Accident—Coroner's Inquest.

The child that was injured in Birmingham, on Saturday, an account of which has been previously published, died of its injuries, as stated yesterday, Monday morning. The accident occurred on Carson street, in "Smoky Hollow," Birmingham, in front of the residence of Mr. Davis, father of the child. It appears that a number of children were playing on the street, and among them was Benjamin Davis, a little boy between two and three years old, and as car No. 2 was approaching the house, on the return trip from the city, the little follow attempted to cross the street in front of the horses, when he was knocked down, and the front wheel of the car ran upon his leg, severely lacerating it, and exposing a portion of the articulating surface of the knee joint, which so shocked the nervous system of the child as to produce lock-jaw, which resulted in death, about ten o'clock, Monday morning. Drs. A. V. Chesrown and J. P. McCord, were summoned, and did all in their power to relieve the little sufferer. Coroner Clawson held an inquest yesterday morning, when the jury returned the following verdict:

"The said Benjamin Davis came to his death in Birmingham, on the 16th day of November, 1868, from injuries received on the Pittsburgh and Birmingham Passenger Railway, by being knocked down by one of the horses attached to car No. 2, and the wheel of said car running upon his left leg, on the 14th day of November, 1868, and the jury further find that George Brawdy was driving said car, No. 2, at the time said injuries were inflicted."

The driver, George Brawdy, was arrested by order of the Coroner and brought to the city, and the matter was brought before the court, when he was admitted to bail in the sum of $500.

Col. J. D Egans' Book Store.

In no more pleasing or profitable manner can the long weary wintry evenings be spent than in company with an entertaining and interest provoking book. Most people realize this fact, and hence there will be an extra demand made for some time to come, on our book dealers for all classes of literary works, to suit all manners of taste among readers. Some will only find cheer and company in heavy, prosy, metaphysical works, or in the time honored classical authors, whilst others discarding these lines of literature will look for lighter reading matter, such as may entertain and carry the sympathies with the hero or heroine, and serve for amusement if not solid instruction. It will be no very difficult matter for the reader to determine what school of literature best suits his tastes, but to afford him the necessary information as to where he can obtain the choicest selection and variety of books and general reading matter, we would refer to the popular and well conducted literary bazaar of Col. J. D. Egan, No. 41 Sixth street. Here the reader will find a magnificent assortment of the works of all the standard authors, together with the current publications of the day. The prices are very reasonable and the selection fine, so that Col. Egan's house commends itself in very strong terms to the purchaser.

Successful Burglary.

On Monday night, sometime between ten and twelve o'clock, the drug store of Messrs. Mercer and Seitz, on Ohio avenue, Fifth ward, Allegheny, was entered by burglars, and robbed of ninety dollars in greenbacks, and some papers. The thieves removed the transom over a door in the rear of the establishment, and by this means effected an entrance. The plunder which they secured was found in a small tin box which had been left in one of the counter drawers. None of the goods in the store were taken, the thieves evidently wanting nothing but cash. After securing the money the operators departed through the back door, leaving it open after they had passed out. The robbery was evidently committed by some persons familiar with the premises, as the bolt fastenings of the transoms had previously been pushed back from the inside, rendering their entrance from the outside a comparatively easy matter. The perpetrators left no clue which would lead to their detection.

Kept the Books.

Andrew Sleicker has a passion for the science of book-keeping, which, although perfectly laudable when kept within bounds, sometimes extends too far, as it did the other day. The story is that Henry was employed as book-keeper by the firm of Beckert & Wonderlain, which lately dissolved. Henry, of course, as chief accountant, was required to settle up and deliver over the books, but when called upon to do his duty in this respect it is alleged that he refused to do so, but true to his instincts as a book-keeper he kept all the accounts, etc., in his possession. Mr. Beckert finally made information before Alderman Mullen, charging him with larceny as bailee. After a hearing before the official, the matter was finally adjusted, Henry giving up the books and the suit being withdrawn. In justice to him, it should be added that the books were all straight and kept in a faultless manner.

Held for Court.

William Shenck was arrested on a charge of assault and battery yesterday, on oath of Wm. Johns, proprietor of the Keystone Hotel, and after a hearing before the Mayor was held to bail for his appearance at Court. It appears that the accused was boarding at the Keystone, and being in arrears for one week's board was unable to pay the same when requested to do so, whereupon the landlord took charge of his baggage and locked it up. Shenck remonstrated with him, telling him he could pay the bill on Saturday, but Johns concluded to make himself secure and refused to give up the baggage or any part of it. Words passed between the parties, when, it is alleged, Johns caught the defendant by the throat and attempted to shove him out of the house, whereupon Shenck struck him and knocked him down.

Death from Heart Disease.

Coroner Clawson held an inquest yesterday afternoon on the body of a man named Martin, who died suddenly at his residence on Forbes street, about six o'clock, Monday evening. It seems that the deceased was sitting at the supper table, when he was observed suddenly to fall back in his chair and gasp. The family, becoming alarmed, summoned medical aid, and in a few minutes two physicians arrived, who immediately pronounced the unfortunate man in a dying condition, and in a short time afterwards he expired. The deceased seemed in perfect health previous to the attack which resulted in his death. The jury returned a verdict of death from heart disease. He was a middle aged man, and leaves a wife and family.

The Delaware Mutual Insurance Company.

We bespeak at the hands of our readers a careful inspection of the annual statement of this old institution, published in another column of this paper.

Under the Presidency of the late W. Martin, (who was one of the most intelligent underwriters we ever knew,) an agency of the "Delaware Mutual Safety Insurance Company" was established in this city in 1844. After the memorable fire of 1845, the business of the Pittsburgh agency exceeded for a year or two that of any other office. Subsequently local offices, and agencies of foreign offices were multiplied, and the business became more diffused, but under the careful and judicious management of Mr. P. A. Madeira, who has held the agency for nearly twenty years this Company has been among the most successful of all the competing Companies doing business in the city, no one of which adjusted losses more promptly. Its record in these respects could not be better, and the business community have in the high character of Mr. Madeira for promptitude, integrity, and probably every assurance that, during his incumbancy at least, the Company will deserve, and continue to enjoy the confidence and patronage hitherto so liberally extended to it.

Some idea of the extent of the business of the Company may be deduced from a few items gleaned from the annual statement before referred to:

The whole amount of Premiums received during the year ending Oct. 31, '68, was...	$1,355,557.51
Amount of losses and expenses paid in same time	710,837.10
Aggregate market value of assets, including cash on hand, $116,563.73.....	1,647,367.50
Deducting the losses and expense from the premiums received, the balance is.....	644,720.47
Take from this the amount of premium on unexpired risks	406,485.71
Leaves a balance of earned profits of.....	$ 238,234.76

This last item reveales the secret of the great prosperity of the Delaware Mutual Safety Insurance Company, nearly a quarter of a million dollars of premiums earned in one year, are distributed among the stockholders and customers of the company. We see in the statement that a ten per cent. cash dividend is declared on the stock, also six per cent. interest on all outstanding scrip, and a thirty per cent. dividend on interest bearing scrip, and besides all this, an order is made for the payment in cash of all scrip of more than four years standing.

It will be seen at once that every person insuring in this Company shares in the profits of its business without any liability for losses, and that the profits thus distributed are very large. It is noteworthy that under the peculiar blending of the joint stock and mutual system adopted by this Company, it has grown under wise management to be one of the strongest and safest Underwriting institutions in the Commonwealth.

Progress and Time have through countless ages marched hand in hand—the one building up and the other destroying. They seem to create little commotion in this busy world, as Holtzheimer's Continental Dining Rooms are always thronged with customers. We presume, however, that this may be attributed to the fact that the tables at the Continental are always supplied with the best the market and season affords, served up in the highest style of the culnary art. If you want something good to eat, as most people do in their progress through life, notwithstanding the ravages of old time, call at the Continental, one door below the Postoffice, on Fifth avenue.

Furs at Fleming's.

We take great pleasure in calling the attention of our thousands of lady readers to the fact that the very best place in the city at which to purchase Furs of superior quality, and at from 20 to 25 per cent. lower than at any house in the West, is at the popular emporium of William Fleming, No. 139 Wood street. It is eminently a place worthy of a very large patronage, and for more reasons than one: Mr. F.'s long experience in this particular branch, his fine judgment in the selection of goods, his honesty and urbanity of manner, all combine to make him one of the most popular business men in the city. That Fleming's mammoth emporium carries at all times the largest and most varied assortment of Hats, Caps, Ladies' Furs, &c., is conceded on all hands, and the verdict is also equally unanimous that a great deal can be saved by purchasing there. It will well repay the reader to visit this great house, even if not disposed to buy, as the salesmen are all clever and disposed to pay every attention to those who may favor them with a call. The prevailing styles of Furs are most beautiful, consisting of Eugenies, Boas, Berthas, patent muffs, all made of the very best Hudson Bay Sable, Siberian Squirrel, German Fitch, Water Mink, &c., &c.; in fact, all varieties imaginable. Just drop in and see for yourselves if you would examine the greatest variety ever opened in the city. In addition to the very full line of ladies' furs, Mr. Fleming has decidedly the greatest assortment of misses' and children's furs ever shown a Western public. In order to test the superior advantages of this house over all others, it would be well for the purchasers to visit similar houses, inquire prices, style of goods, and then go to No. 139 Wood street, and ascertain the difference. If not then satisfied, consider us no judges.

The "Diamond" Front.

The Diamond Front Grocery Store, No. 164 Federal street, Allegheny, still continues to supply housekeepers with first-class groceries at those low rates which have given the house such a wide-spread popularity. If economical housekeepers take our advice and call at Mr. George's establishment, they will see a solution of this difficult problem. Remember the place, 164 Federal street, Allegheny.
